

Pantone® Matching System (PMS) Color Chart

Use this chart with caution. Pantone® colors viewed on computer screens and printed to inkjet printers will not match actual colors precisely. In general, Pantone® inks tend to print slightly darker and flatter than they appear on computer monitors. Pantone® Metallic, Hexachrome and some other special inks are omitted from this list, as they are not reproducible in RGB colors for display on screen. Whenever possible, refer to a current printed Pantone® color swatch book - that is the only way to accurately proof colors. The colors in Pantone® swatch books which have been exposed repeatedly to direct light, or are more than three years old, may appear slightly lighter or paler than real Pantone® inks. Be sure to replace your swatch books every few years, and keep them out of direct light when not in use, to avoid fading.

Note that the conversions in this color codes chart are best described as "nominal". They will produce an invertible conversion between the RGB code and a subset of CMYK; that is, one can take an RGB color code and convert to certain CMYK colors, and from these CMYK colors obtain the matching, original RGB codes. However, conversion of CMYK colors to RGB cannot be reversed; this means, given a CMYK color code which is converted to RGB, performing the former conversion may not give the original CMYK color. In addition, CMYK colors may print differently from how the RGB colors display on a monitor. There is no single "good" conversion rule between RGB and CMYK, because neither RGB nor CMYK is an absolute color space.
